

Allied Universal Hires Former FBI Leader as Senior Vice President of Risk Advisory and Consulting

Joshua Skule will be responsible for enhancing this division as a national and global provider of differentiating consulting, investigations and protective services.

Oct 28, 2019

Allied Universal, a security and facility services company in North America, recently hired Joshua Skule as the senior vice president of the Risk Advisory and Consulting Services division. Skule will be responsible for enhancing this division as a national and global provider of differentiating consulting, investigations and protective services.

Skule joins Allied Universal after a distinguished 21-year career in the FBI, where he was recently the executive assistant director for intelligence leading the organization's intelligence branch. In this role, he served as the strategic leader of the FBI's intelligence program with centralized authority, responsibility and oversight for all the bureau's intelligence work. In addition, he managed a global workforce of 5,000 people and a National Intelligence Program budget of over $3 billion.

<https://securitytoday.com/articles/2019/10/28/allied-universal-hires-former-fbi-leader-as-senior-vice-president-of-risk-advisory-and-consulting.aspx>